MONEY AND STOCKS.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The stock market is feverish in consequence of a report from Washington relative to the loan bill.

Money is easy at 50/60 per cent.

Gold has been steady at about $128; the last sales, at four o'clock, were at $127 1/2.

At New Orleans to-day gold fell to $125, and the dollar's sterling was quoted at $115 in currency.

Governments were firm this afternoon; 1881 coupons, 104; 5-20 coupons, 103; 7-30 notes, 100, for second, and 97 1/2 for third series.

The speculative feature of the market has materially abated to-day, and the market has responded to a state of quietude. There is a general disposition to await the action of Congress on the Finance bill.

The following are the closing prices at four and a half o'clock, p. m.: New York Central, 92 1/2; Erie, 89 1/2; Hudson River, 107 1/2; Reading, 100; Michigan Central, 108; Michigan Southern, 81 1/2; Illinois Central, 113 1/2; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 80 1/2; Cleveland and Toledo, 109 1/2; Rock Island, 112 1/2; W. & A. 91 1/2; Ohio and Mississippi, 25 1/2; Chicago and Alton, 87 1/2; New York & W. 74; Western Union Telegraph, 63; New York & P. 62.

PIKE'S OPERA HOUSE BURNED DOWN.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—Pike's Opera House took fire from explosion of gas, at eleven o'clock to-night, and at midnight the whole building was in flames. Adam E. Eames, company, who owned the building, was killed, and there caught in the flames, together with a woman, and a child. The fire broke out at about 10 o'clock, and spread rapidly, and in a few minutes the entire building was in flames.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN PENNSYLVANIA OIL REGIONS.

PETROLEUM CENTRE, Pennsylvania, March 22.—The greatest fire ever known in the oil regions, excepting that of Maple Shade, two years ago, has nearly exhausted itself, leaving a horrible and fearful amount of ruins. The conflagration began at the Ocean well, where two men were engaged in caulking a new tank containing oil to the amount of two hundred barrels.

One of the staves being forced out of the bottom, created a vacuum, through which the oil ran out, and running down it communicated with an engine house, and there caught in the flames. From this point it rapidly spread to the oil tanks of the Ocean oil company, of Philadelphia. The Arctic well No. 20, Patterson, and Dickey No. 15, thence down the river to the Breton & Myers, and Breton & Tennant leases, which were soon enveloped in one huge mass of flames, with no earthly means of checking this fearful tide. It rolled onward down the river, and the entire country was in flames. The fire broke out at about 10 o'clock, and spread rapidly, and in a few minutes the entire building was in flames.

When extricated from the devouring element, both eyes were burned out, and he was in every way unrecognized. Another man is reported to have been burned to death on a derrick, and one jumped from the top of a derrick to save his life. He was slightly injured.

C. C. CLAY AND JEFF. DAVIS.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Fortress Monroe dispatches that General C. C. Clay has been permitted, on his parole of honor, to enjoy the liberty of the grounds within the walls of the fortress during day time.

"Jeff Davis" health continues good and he keeps up some habits to which he has been accustomed for some time past, including his daily out for exercise. He reads much and keeps well posted on passing events.

An officer who recently undertook to draw him out on Penland met with a complete failure, though a great portion of the time he was displayed to be social and conversational. He is frequently seized with fits of sourness and reticence. He seldom alludes to his trial.

CUBANS ALARMED ABOUT CHILIAN PRISONERS.

The Cubans are again excited by rumors that Chilean prisoners are of their coast.

ROBERT TOMBS AT HAVANA.

Among the late arrivals at Havana of exiles are Robert Tombs, of Georgia, who has been pardoned for his participation in the rebellion in the South-Confederate States.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—It is a noticeable fact that the two or three hundred men who were sent to Washington to get cotton released; some were successful and others not. Cotton having been broken up all the business.

GALESTON, March 20.—Little of public interest was done in the Texas convention. A committee of nine was appointed to draft an address to the President.

Mr. Bennett, Republican, offered a proposition to pay the bill of General Houston for the full salary he would have received as Governor for the full term, from the time he was deposed by the secession convention.

INTERVIEW IN THE CASE OF GOSSETT.

Thirty-Ninth Congress—1st Session.

WASHINGTON, March 22.

SENATE.—Mr. Yates was excused, at his own request, from further service on the Committee on Pensions.

Mr. Clark presented a petition of the officers of a savings bank in Manchester, New Hampshire, asking that deposits in such banks be exempt from taxation.

Reported, from the Committee on Printing, without amendment, the resolution for printing 5,000 copies of the special report of the revenue commission.

Mr. Hendricks asked if the minority report of the commission had been printed.

Mr. Sherman said it had not.

Mr. Hayes, of Chicago, had made a report in favor of raising United States securities and calling the national debt, and this had not been printed. It was a very bad report, but it might be enough to print it.

On motion of Mr. Hendricks, the resolution was passed, without amendment, the resolution for printing 5,000 copies of the special report of the revenue commission.

The House committee on the library reported a bill to transfer the library of the Congress to the National Institute of the Library of Congress, and asked for its immediate consideration.

At the request of Mr. Sumner, it was laid over for the present, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Sumner introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Finance to inquire into the expediency of extending the law relating to revenue acts to permit disabled soldiers of the Union army to peddle without a license, now required by law. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Harris called up the bill authorizing the Southern judicial district of the State of California and the Western judicial district of Louisiana, and of the State of California, respectively, one judicial district.

Mr. Brown called up the bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi, at St. Louis, which passed.

Mr. Chandler introduced a bill granting certain lands to the State of Michigan to aid in the construction of a ship canal, to connect the waters of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, known as Lake La Belle, in said State. The bill was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. Nye, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a bill for the relief of certain contractors for the construction of vessels of war and steam machinery.

Mr. Trumbull then called up the case of John P. Stockton, senator elect from New Jersey, against whom certain members of the New Jersey Legislature protested.

The report of the Judiciary Committee was read. It states that the only question involved in the decision of the case is whether an election by a majority of votes of the members of the Legislature in joint meeting, assembled in pursuance of a resolution adopted by that joint meeting is valid. The protestants insist that it is not, since they deny the right to a seat because, as they say, he was not appointed by a majority of the votes of the joint meeting of the Legislature.

HOUSE.—Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, presented a memorial of the General Assembly of Iowa, for government control to the extension of the Iowa branch of the Union and Pacific railroad.

Mr. Kasson also introduced a bill to establish a port of delivery at Council Bluffs on the Missouri river. Read twice and referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Windom, of Minnesota, introduced a bill for the benefit of certain half-breed and mixed bloods of the Winnebago tribe. Read twice and referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

The House proceeded, as the business of the day, to the consideration of the joint resolution, reported yesterday from the Committee on Agriculture, to amend the agricultural college bill of July 1, 1863.

Mr. Caldwell submitted some remarks in explanation of the measure.

After a discussion extending all through the morning hour, the joint resolution was referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

The House concurred in the Senate amendment to the bill to authorize the sale of marine hospitals and revenue cutters.

The Senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill, relating to the disposal of the commissioners of quarantine, which limits the operation of the law to one year, were concurred in.

Twenty Senate bills and joint resolutions were referred.

The bill to aid in the construction of a telegraph line to Cuba and other West India islands was concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Washburne, the House proceeded to the consideration of business on the speaker's table.

The House took up the Senate amendment to the act to authorize the sale of marine hospitals and revenue cutters.

Mr. Washburne, not concerned therein, the Senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill, relating to the disposal of the commissioners of quarantine, which limits the operation of the law to one year, were concurred in.

CITY NEWS.

BEER AND ALES.—During the month of February, 1884 barrels of beer and ale were sold by the brewers of this city.

NOTARIES.—Sebastian Hess, of Hendricks; and Henry C. Schuyler, of Knox, have been commissioned Notaries Public.

Fall Creek.—We are under obligations to Mr. R. A. Robinson, Express messenger of the Adams Express, for late Louisville papers, in advance of the mail.

The prospects of the wheat crop, as we gather from our exchanges, are discouraging. It is thought that the yield will be even less than that of last season.

Jeremiah O'Leary yesterday obtained permission from the Board of County Commissioners to sell spirituous and malt liquors at No. 173 South Illinois street.

Commissioners of Deeds.—Andrew J. Anderson, New York City, and Frederick Knox, of Washington, have been appointed Commissioners of Deeds for the State of Indiana.

Cunningham.—The cream man, already in the field with his celebrated "clear quill." Yesterday being a little sultry, we were induced to try a dish, and found it delicious.

The Indianapolis Gas Light and Coke company has paid a revenue tax of $8,730 on gas manufactured during the month ending February 23. The tax for February alone was $757.00.

A retired Methodist preacher, whose sands of ecclesiastical life have gently run out, has plunged into the horse trading business, and holds forth every day in the neighborhood of the Tabernacle.

We are under the impression that a sprightly young man may obtain a situation at the County Clerk's office, as we understand one of the employees of that establishment spent the day there.

Colonel J. W. Blake has dispatched a special messenger to Washington to charge of three hundred unmounted military rifles, which he hopes to put through by a flank movement on the circumlocution office.

Dr. W. C. Clifton Thompson has resigned his position in the City Council. The Doctor may possibly have erred at times, in judgment, but he has been a hard working and industrious worker.

Mice and rabbits have been unusually destructive to young fruit trees during the winter. An agricultural friend informs us that he has lost several hundred young apple trees by the depredations of these pests.

Druggists.—George S. Searles, Tom McGuire, Mike Dennis and Jacob Miller yesterday enrolled their names on the mayor's books for $90 each, to be paid in cash or a brief residence in the county jail—mostly the latter.

RAILROAD RECEIPTS.—The gross receipts of the Baltimore and Ohio for the month of February were $100,177, upon which the tax is $2,547.84. The receipts of the Peru road for the same time were $35,230, the tax being $890.97.

PIGIONS.—The pigeon mania reigns in unexampled fervor. Scores of hundreds go every day, and return loaded with spoil. About Greenwood, on the Jeff road, the birds are said to be very abundant. One man bagged three hundred with a net day before yesterday, at one haul.

Persons in the neighborhood of North and Pennsylvania streets complain grievously of noxious odors, suppose to arise from fertilizing agents thickly spread upon the grounds of the Baptist Female Seminary. The man in the moon is said to hold his nose every time he passes over that locality, and citizens who pass that way would to imitate the example of the lunar gentleman.

CABBAGE.—We have for some time missed our friend, Lieutenant Frank Swiggett, from his accustomed haunts, but have just learned that he has gone into the merchant tailoring business at Cambridge City. As a gentleman, a soldier and "analogist of peculiar fixings," Swiggett was above reproach, and we hope he may become equally eminent in the vegetable line.

A MISTAKE.—Albert True Lansing, editor of the Bowling Green Aurora Herald, thinks Mr. John Wiltshank made a trifling mistake in sending him one of his emigration circulars, and goes off in the following effusive strain of aural indignation:

"We are no agriculturist—we don't own no farms; those business don't suit us. We are no cotton-planters—we don't own no cotton. We are no animal propagators—horseteers are not as a civil make no pretensions as a show us we claim no honors, but if we may be permitted to take a few in ours, but not enough to warrant our bragging, etc., in circulating us an agriculturalist."

The W.F. MURDER.—By the time the majority of our city readers saw the present number of the HERALD, we presume the fate of Ignatius Buchanan, who murdered his wife some time since, under circumstances of almost unprecedented atrocity, will have been determined by the time the present number of the HERALD is published. As a gentleman, a soldier and "analogist of peculiar fixings," Swiggett was above reproach, and we hope he may become equally eminent in the vegetable line.

DEAD FOR A DOCT.—Two times and a half pays the bill. The periodical eruptions at the corner of Illinois and Georgia have been a source of trouble to the city, and a few war horses gaze in blank wonderment on the very mount, and "nary rat can be seen—the picture alone decorates the front, where was wont to enter in stentorian tones the voice of the apocalyptic showman's loud dimes and a half takes you in." All the times of the organ grinder are hushed in silence, including the grinding of "Annie Laurie," for twenty-four hours per diem. Even the spotted negro has changed his tune, and adorns an unknown canvas—"you bet," not a Democratic one. An alligator, of "straw," a showman, of "straw"—a public nuisance of varied proportions and palpable dimensions have mized. We congratulate the guests of the Commercial hotel.

The assessor's internal revenue expert could find great difficulty in getting returns of animals slaughtered by some of our butchers. Many of them are honorable men, if they do get the best price possible for their meat, while others not only sell the first cut posterior to the horn for stiffs, but are so eager to do the assessor good at them by overhauling the books of the hide merchants, but now the butchers refuse to sell their hides if an account is kept of the animal, and have been so diligent. A butcher who has a good reputation at "steak" would not act so naughtily. Not he.

COMPLIMENTARY SURREY AT SOLDIERS' HOME.—We are requested to say by the committee of arrangements, that the complimentary party given to General Dan. Macaulay by the officers of the Ninth Regiment United States Veteran Volunteers, having been adjourned, the board of the Soldiers' Home will come on on Friday evening, the 23d instant, at the above named place. All who received invitations—also those who attended on the evening of its adjournment, are respectfully solicited to attend, as the "hall" is reserved for them. No new guests will be admitted, so those who have received invitations will make note of this. Supper will be provided by Cunningham.

Whenever our subscribers visit the city, with a dish of oysters served up at the corner of Illinois and Georgia, have a grant as the balm of a thousand ailments, a quire for the best looking man in the city, and they will point the way to Cunningham's, "Ice Cream Man," who, from serving a single person, to catering for a brilliant assemblage, is unsurpassed.

Another Lot of those nice hair curls, some new trimmings, and a few late style lace collars, have just been received, per express, by Elliott, Gadd & Co., 71 East Washington street.

Wild Pigeons at the Circle, and all kinds of game served up to suit the most delicate taste. Rhodius is always on hand to secure the first and the best market orders.

The Circle, No. 15 North Meridian street, has won a name that it will maintain as long as it does continue to provide the public with the choicest of game, meats, oysters, cigars and liquors.

Hats.—Our worthy friend Seaton, of the One Price and Fashionable Hat Emporium on Pennsylvania street, near the postoffice, has a complete stock of the latest styles of hats, and is accompanied by a carload of boxes freighted with elegant and stylish manifestations of the cap sense of the gentleman's toilet. The hat. Seaton brings a great variety of new styles, some of them decidedly "fobby." We are gratified to learn that hats have been declined in price in the Eastern market, and that Seaton will be enabled to accommodate his customers at rates moderately reduced.

Little's Hotel.—Reference to an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that the Little House has changed hands. We recommend the new proprietor, Mr. Hagenbach, to the traveling public as a gentleman who will look to the interest of all who favor him with a call for board by the day or week. The above house is undergoing a most thorough repair, and will be kept as a number one hotel. A free omnibus runs to and from every train, day and night; besides this hotel is pleasantly located, only one square from the court house, in the most healthy part of the city, on East Washington street.

Lecture this Evening.—In accordance with previous announcement, B. F. Taylor, of Chicago, will lecture for the Young Men's Library Association this evening, at the Masonic Hall. The time of the lecture, and prices of admission are stated in the proper advertising column. The subject will be "English Words, their Use, Abuse and Beauty." Many of the curiosities of language will be shown in this course, and much of the latest news as well as entertaining is promised for those who hear it. We hope, for the benefit of the public generally, as well as for the Library Association, that Mr. Taylor may be greeted with a large audience.

The President has put a new lichen on the "Freedom's Bureau." Speaking of this, we are reminded of the important fact that John Hess & Sons have marked down the prices of their immense stock of goods, and are offering splendid bargains for the next two weeks.

Spring Goods.—Messrs. Stowitworth & Pierson, No. 17 North Meridian street, have received an elegant stock of fine spring goods of the latest styles, which they make up into suits to suit the most fashionable, as all are willing to acknowledge who have had the good fortune to have left their measure for a new dress.

Wild Pigeons, wild ducks, wild geese, wild venison, and all sorts of wild game may be obtained in the most presentable and appealing shape at the late season. No. 17 North Meridian street, as well as all other edible, drinkable and smokable. The Circle sustains its reputation as a first class restaurant through all seasons and circumstances.

Bargains.—Call and see our new spring cassimere for gentlemen and boys, they can not be excelled as to quality, style or cheapness. We sell our goods very low, as our buyers in New York is constantly sending us something at a bargain.

Hoosier Woolen Factory Store, No. 61 and 63 West Washington street.

A New Establishment.—Winter & Bro. have just opened a new merchant tailoring establishment at No. 16 South Meridian street, on the south of the Tabernacle. One of the Winters was for a long time the cutter for the house of Morris, Bro. & Co., and will be remembered by the customers of that house as a thorough artist, who never failed to give ample satisfaction. They open up a large and well selected stock of cloths, vestings and summer goods, which they propose to make up in first class style, as cheap as the cheapest. We assure all who may favor them with their patronage that the house of Winter will not prove the winter of their discontent. Give them a call.

Go and See Them.—A. J. Vawter & Co., real estate agents, have for sale at their office, 23 West Washington street, some choice farms, and houses and lots, all very cheap and on good terms.

Dr. Wm. Thompson conquers the hydra-headed monster, Venereal, without the use of mercury, and cures of unfortunate persons visit his office daily, who are relieved of pain, and permanently cured of their maladies in the shortest possible time. See advertisement on the third page of this paper.

Photographic Institute.—This Institute of short hand writing is, for the present, in College Hall. Doors open until nine, p. m. 21-22

Removal.—Mr. J. K. Sharpe has located his leather and shoe finding business at his new building, corner of Maryland and Delaware streets, a few doors below his old stand. The retail shoe department will remain at the old place, with increased facilities for accommodating the public.

Spring Styles at G. H. Heitkamp's. Mr. G. H. Heitkamp has just returned from the East with a magnificent stock of goods, and is now prepared to make to order dresses or business suits in the latest style, and at a low price. Remember the number, 21 North Illinois street.

Eureka.—A good patent Danner's Clothes Horse, Call and see it. Inventor's Exchange room No. 1, No. 10 North Pennsylvania street.
